Jeevan dhara

Best Practice 1: Jeevan Dhara – A Stream of Life-Saving Practices

This initiative focuses on blood donation as a vital practice to save lives. Students are encouraged to volunteer and promote awareness about the importance of voluntary, non-remunerated blood donation. The college collaborates with local hospitals and organizes blood donation camps with external organizations like the Lions Club. Awareness programs, information on donation safety, and urgent blood requests further motivate students to participate actively. The practice has fostered a sense of social responsibility and increased student involvement, making them feel connected to the welfare of the community.

Eco campus revolution

Best Practice 2: Eco-Campus Revolution – Paving the Way for a Sustainable Future

The college launched this initiative to foster environmental sustainability. It focuses on creating a plastic-free, waste-minimal, energy-conscious, and biodiversity-protective campus. Key efforts include tree conservation, solar energy utilization, rainwater harvesting, and the promotion of a plastic-free environment. Student-driven campaigns like the Anti-Plastic Collection and Recycling Campaign and E-waste awareness programs have successfully reduced the campus's environmental footprint. The college continues to innovate with plans for eco-friendly interiors, vertical gardens, and community engagement, reinforcing its commitment to a sustainable future.
